TPS Alma Mater

Tennessee Old Volunteer, we sing out to thee
To us you will e'er be dear,
We pledge our loyalty
All hail to Tennessee
TPS all hail, marching to victory we'll conquer and prevail . . . Stand by the Gold and Black, measure to the test, hail to our alma mater TPS.
TPS will ever be loyal to the end,
To the state of Tennessee,
Our best we'll ever lend.

TPS '88

"TPS History"

Tennessee Preparatory School was founded in 1885 by the late Colonel E.W. Cole as a memorial to his son, Randall, who was killed in an accident at the age of nineteen. TPS is a part of the state special schools under the jurisdiction of the Tennessee State Board of Education.

Dependent and neglected children, ages twelve to eighteen, from all areas of Tennessee are placed here. The children are provided with housing, food, clothing, education, and medical services, dental services and counseling programs. Extra-curricular activities are available for those who participate. TPS has been a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools since 1935. A well balanced curriculum, offering individualized programming as well as college preparatory courses and vocational training classes, is offered to the students enrolled here. Many TPS graduates have continued their education and hold degrees from such institutions as Auburn, Peabody, Tennessee Tech, University of Tennessee, and Vanderbilt, and have become promnient in the business community as well as leaders in other fields.

In keeping with its purpose, TPS has been home for thousands. Much growth and many changes have occured over the years under the leadership of capable and dedicated supertintendents. Recently we completed an extensive building program which created residential cottages and new school facilities for all students. Many physical changes have taken place, but the purpose of the school has remained constant. The future will continue to hold many improvements as we strive to provide for those enrolled here.

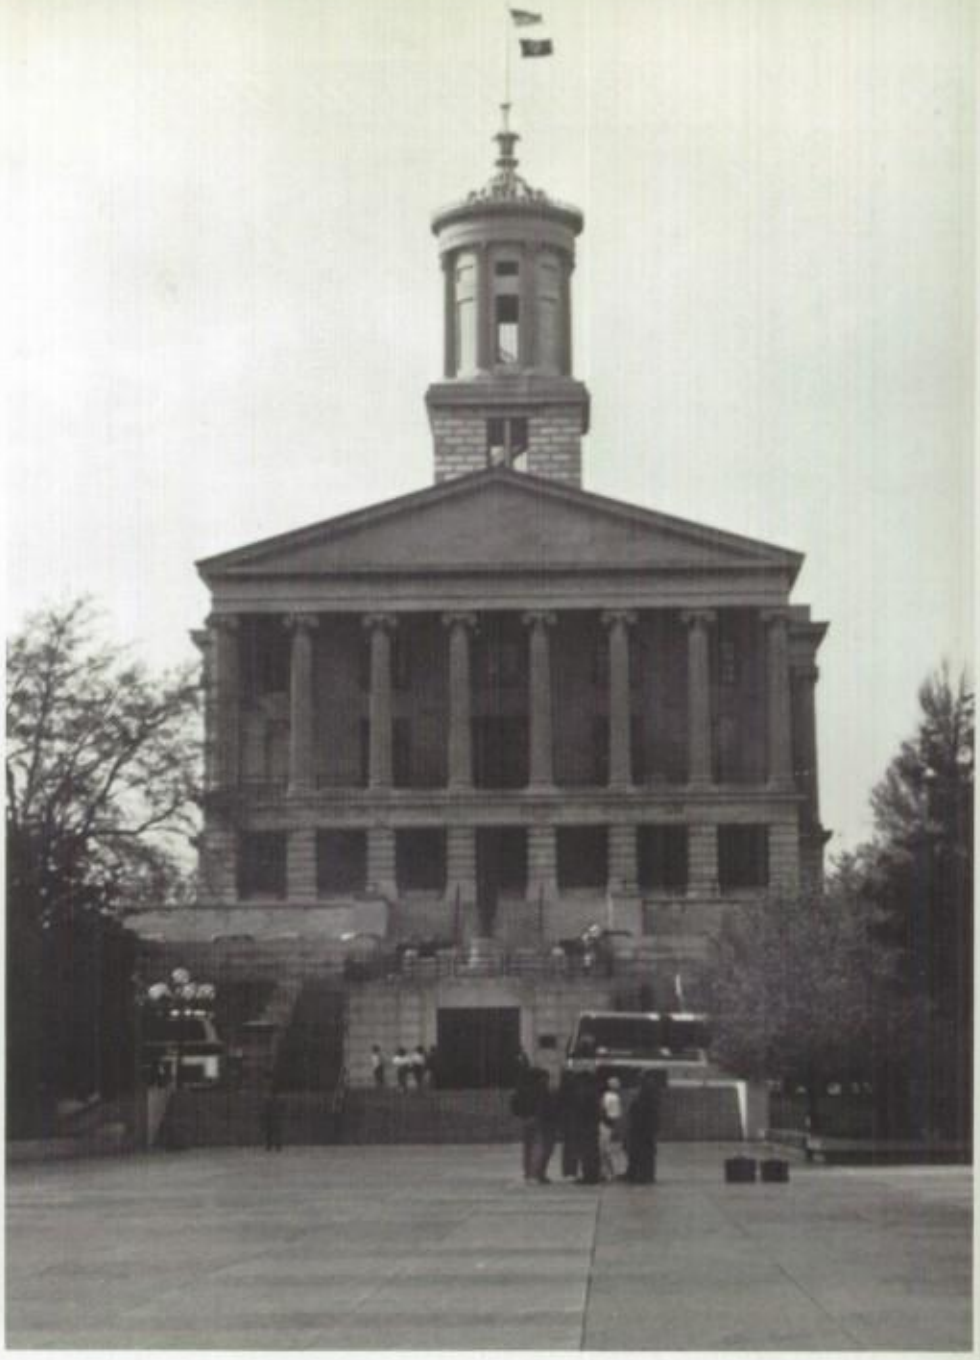
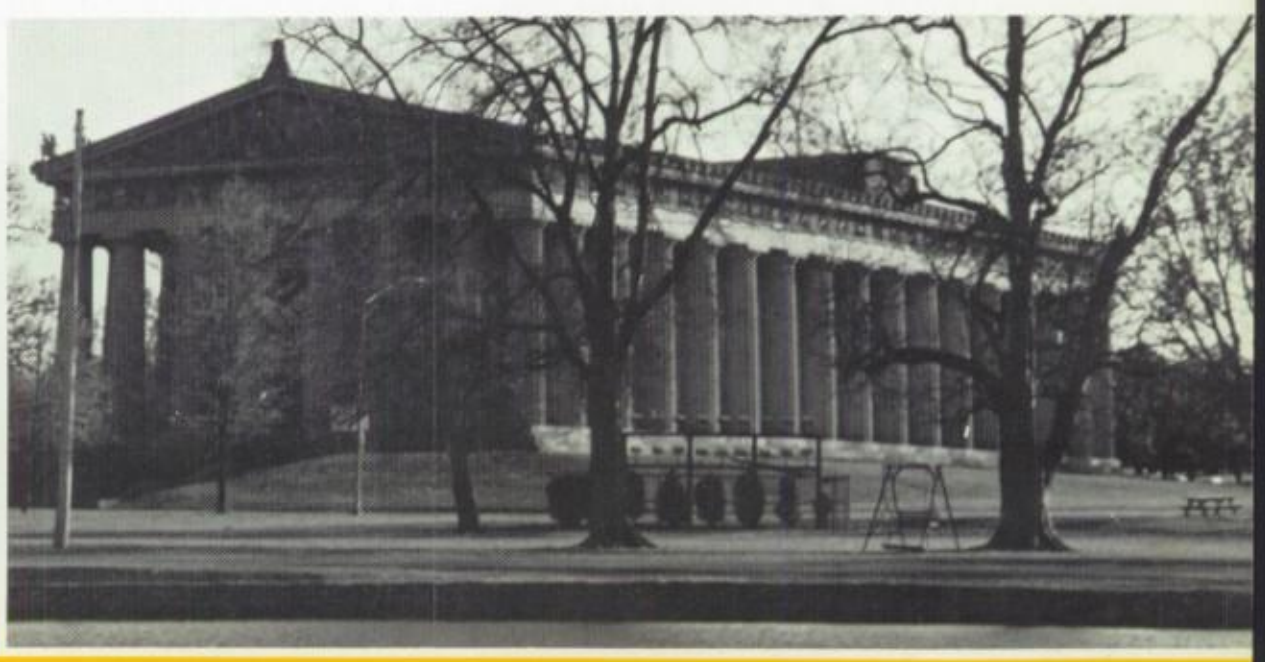
OUR CITY



Our city, Nashville, is the Music City, U.S.A.Featuring such landmarks as The Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson; The Parthenon, a replica of the ancient Greek temple that stands on the Acropola in Athens; the Ryman Auditorium, where the Grand Ole Opry was originally broadcasted; and our state's Capitol Building.

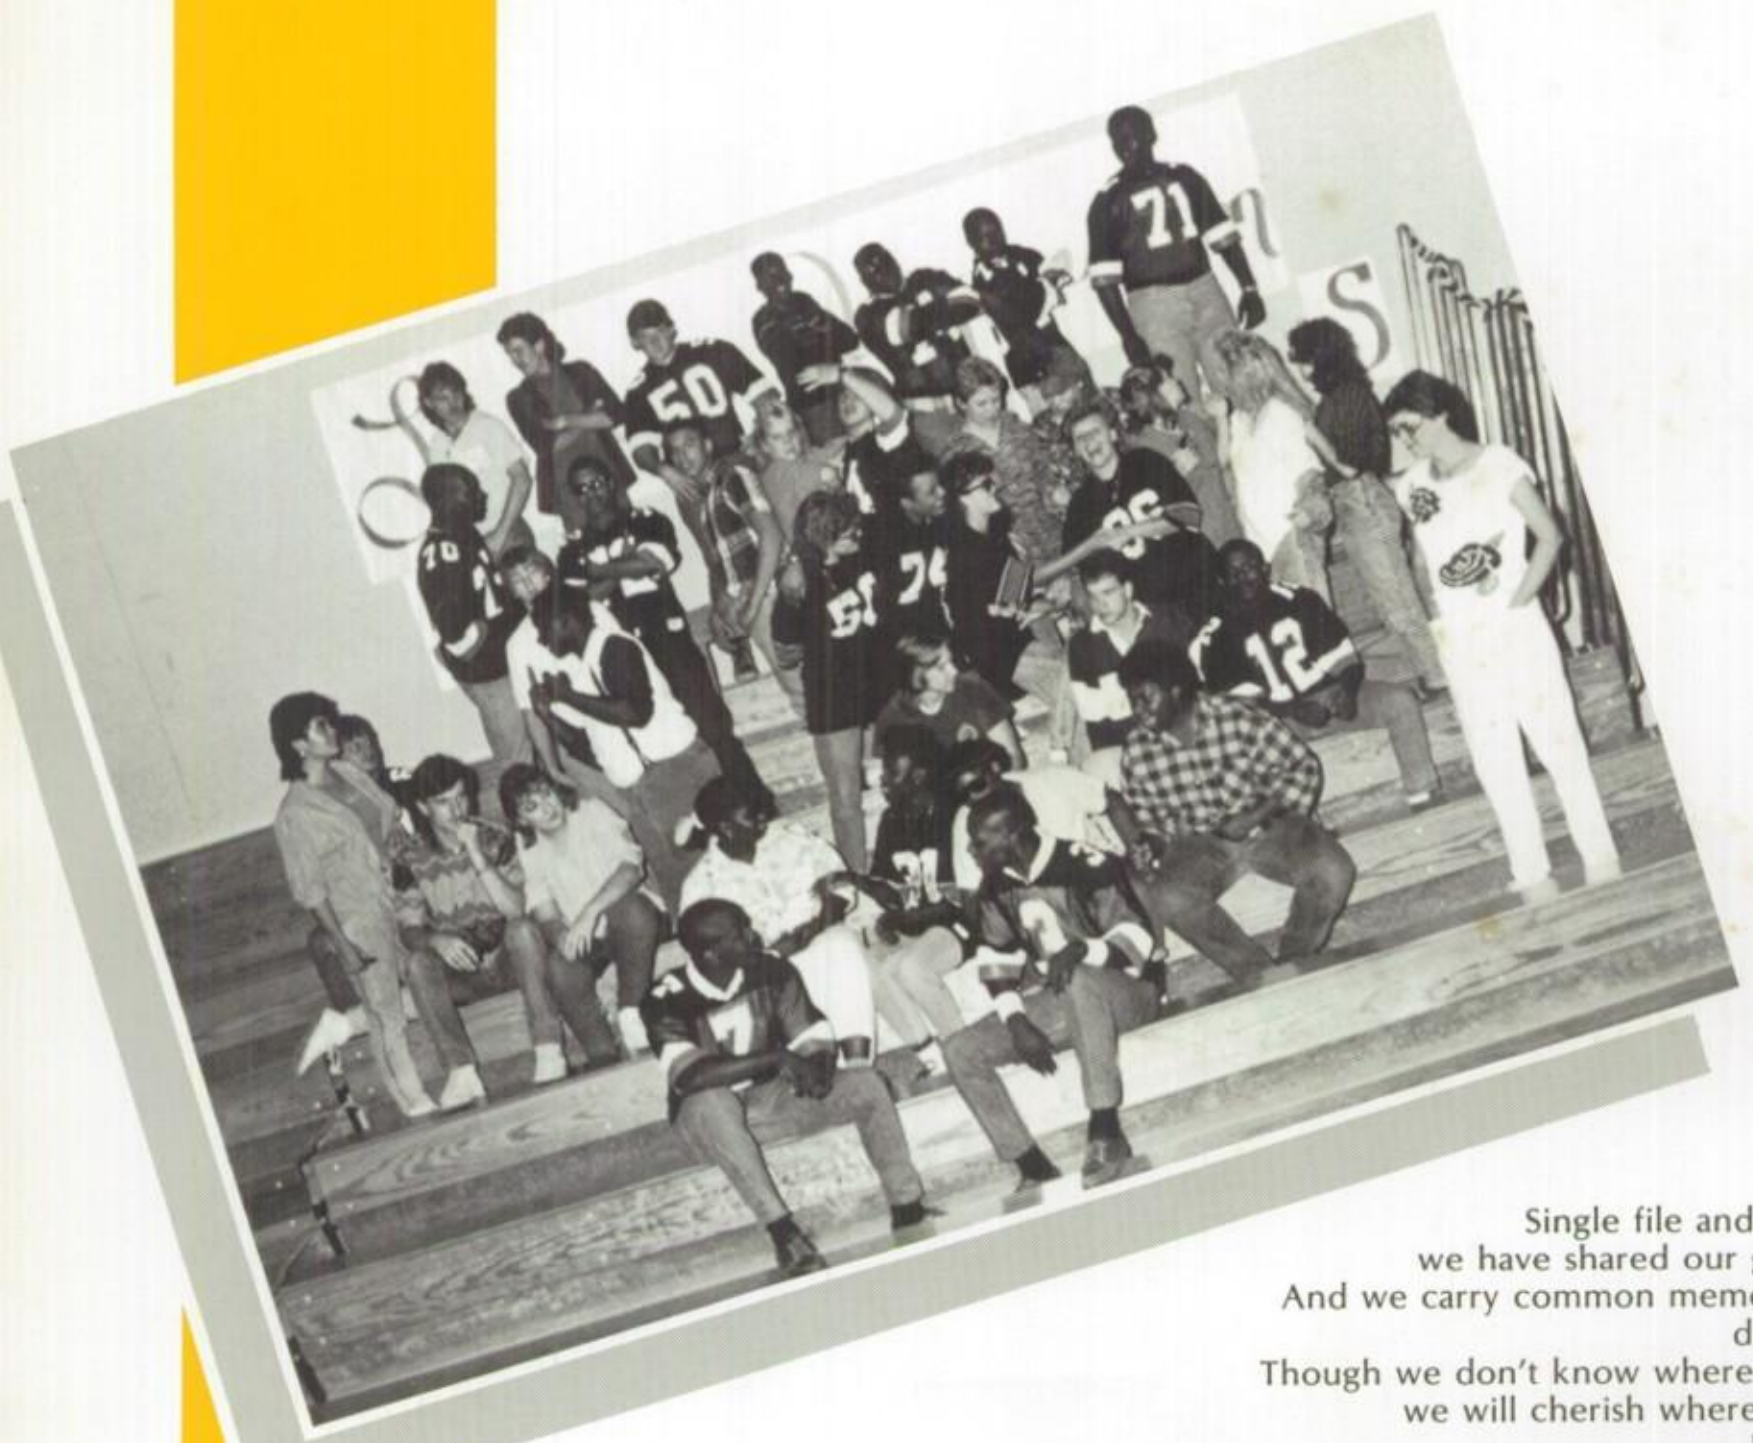
Our tourist industry has grown rapidly over the past few years with such local attractions as the Grand Ole Opry, Opryland, Music Row, and the Country Music Hall of Fame. The Nashville Civic Center and Opryland Hotel features daily tours, conventions, and nightly entertainment, and much, much more.

Nashville is the home of several prominent colleges and universities. These include Vanderbilt University, Belmont College, Tennessee State University and David Lipscomb College.



Lasting Impression
SENIORS

SENIORS



Single file and yet together
we have shared our greatest days,
And we carry common memories in many different ways.
Though we don't know where we're going,
we will cherish where we've been.
I want to cry;
I want to shout;
I want to let this feeling out.
Hold on to the moment, never let it go.
I can picture us together with my arms around my friends.
Just let me hold on to this moment,
before it ends.
There was laughter,
There were tears,
through the dozen golden years.

I am Tennessee Prepraratory School.
I am the student.
The one whose activity gives purpose to the student body from class to class I thrive. Stopping for a friendly chat in hall. I may be zany at a rush party or solemn at graduation. Showing unprecedented enthusiasm these SENIORS help keep the spirit alive: President — Caprice Glenn, Vice President — Joe Williams, Secretary/Treasurer — Kemble Bray, and Homecoming Representative — Kema Yarbrough.

SENIOR MEMORIES

For the senior, it is a time to fly higher and faster. More importantly though, it is time for them to learn to fly on their own, utilizing the skills and abilities which they have acquired through the years. Some will have a great deal of success, some will regretably have none, some move far away and others will return home. However, they'll all have one thing in common. Each and everyone will be a proud graduate of Tennessee Preparatory School, class of 1988. That can never be taken away. It is rightly earned, as well as an honor duly awarded, to be treasured for all time! The 1987-88 meant a year of achievements, excellence, and fun! Despite the many disappointments, TPS students continue to strive for success. Thanks for the memories.

SENIOR MEMORIES

The senior year of high school — there's nothing else quite like it. It is looked forward to by underclassmen with awaiting passion and when it eventually arrives, students can't wait for it to finally be over. It is also a time of great confusion and sadness. However, more than anything else, it is a time of growth and realization. The senior is drawn in many different directions. Should I dedicate my energies to gaining employment or should I concentrate on my schoolwork? What about college? Will I ever see my friends again? Seniors ask themselves these questions and others like them throughout the course of their final year. There are no easy answers and the answer for one is not necessarily the answer for another. The seniors journey to the end of this road has been a long one. It signifies many years of hard work and dedication. Along the way, friends have been won and lost, hearts have been broken, while at the same time spirits have been boosted and dreams realized. And as the end of their year draws to a close, seniors begin to form a very special bond.

SENIOR MEMORIES

The senior year of high school is one of the most important and exciting periods in a lifetime. It is a time of college and career choices and fresh hopes and aspirations that will profoundly affect one's future. However, as important as all of the choices which will be made, are the final times spent with old and dear friends. Many classmates have been together for years, and the last is usually the most treasured. The ups and downs have been many through all of that and more they have been preserved. Time flies, and time stands still, all in the same moment. Part of the time one cannot wait for the new life ahead. Part of the time is spent despairing over the part of life which is coming to an end. Whatever the emotion, Tennessee Preparatory School has well prepared the graduating class of 1988 for the time to come.

SENIOR MEMORIES

Take a look into the past
Old memories linger on.
Treasure all those special times
For one day they'll be gone.
In our hearts and memories,
Good friendships last forever.

The auditorium is now quiet and the last footfalls are echoeing down the hallway. The class of 1987-88 is now beginning a new life. The old life has fallen by the wayside; or has it?

Good bye's have been said, tears have been shed over departure of all our dear friends and the fear of the unnknown which awaits us. But the memories will always be with us. Past events have affected our lives in many ways and will continue to influence our lives as we grow. Though we say farewell, would also like to say "Thank You" as we exit smiling.

RECALLING THE TIME

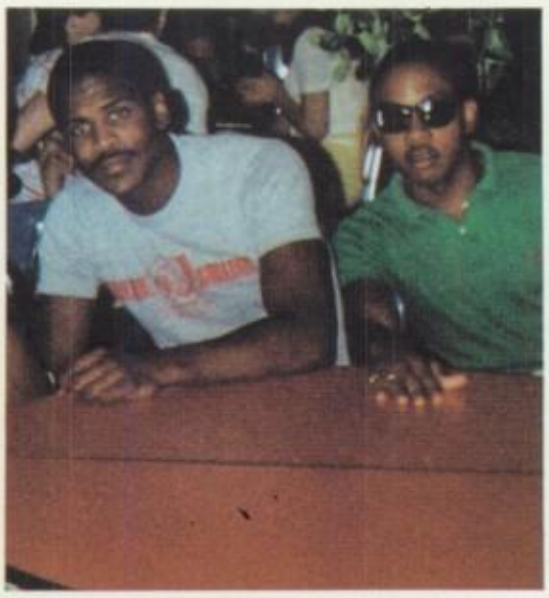
PASSED BY

As the spring weather arrived we sometimes found it difficult to attend classes. When we were finally "coaxed" (Ha) into going, we dragged ourselves in five minutes before the tardy bell rang.

By the time May rolled around the senioritis which had ailed the twelveth graders throughout the year had spread to the entire school population. If it wasn't senioritis, it was summeritis. The excitement was in the air. Chatter of vacation plans could always be heard in the hallways and classroooms.

End of the year activities stirred the students and made them anxious for May 19th.

Student Life



The daily hum-drum of getting to class on time and doing the same old work was very frustrating at times. Also just waking up early to go to school was frustrating especially on cold mornings when the alarm didn't go off (or at least you didn't hear it).

Just when we thought bells ruled our lives, commanding us to eat, to learn, and to leave, we discovered we were wrong.

Weekends brought about a necessary sigh of relief. At times it was difficult to return to our regular routine of student life.

Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Springbreak arrived. We placed our schoolwork aside and turned our brains to "off". We stuffed ourselves at Grandma's, shared the winter holidays with our families, and enjoyed fun filled days in the sun.

When the fun times ended, we dug our books out of the closets, flipping the switch in our brains to "on", and returned to "The Prep".

The fun times, along with the rough times, made us grow as individuals and formed our lives as students.

Social workers function as a case manager for each student in their caseload and in that role seeks to secure the best possible services for each student. Our tasks range from acting as the liason between family, court, and student; evaluating the social and emotional needs of each student and providing services to meet these needs, monitoring and evaluating students progress and acting as the student's advocate when they are in conflict with the system. Social services maintains progress records on each student and provides periodic written reports to the court about each student.

FAIR DAY

On September 21, 1987, it was fair day for the "Prep". We loaded the buses from school and went off to the fair. It was very exciting, there were a lot of rides, games, and food. At the end of the day there was fireworks and it was the icing on the cake. I hope all future students have the same enthusiasm as we did.

Spirit Week at TPS was a great success which included costume, hat, tacky, and 50's day. Somewhere, somehow, we are going to put some fashion designers to shame.

As you can see here at the Prep. we had some very unusual styles and fashions that were in a class all by themselves.

All and all fun week, here at the Prep, was shared by both the students and the staff.

WORK PROGRAM

Mr. Raymond Hunter is the supervisor of about twenty-five off campus workers at the present time. His main goal is to get all the future seniors to have a job. In Mr. Hunter's eyes academics should come first. He has people working in places ranging from grocery stores to hardware stores. He wants to help all students become responsible for themselves and to get good work habits before they leave.

The off campus workers are transported to work by vans, driven by the Duty Crew. The Duty Crew are teachers who live on campus.

Mr. Hunter wants all workers to save all the money they can in order to be prepared for the outside world. Saving money is a hard thing to do, (especially for a normal teenager) but in order to be successful you must learn to do it.

And you were saying . . . ?

I predict by the year 2000 . . .

The Master — Yolanda powers and her helper Ms. Spence.

This is really how you do it!

All set and ready to go home!

And the winner is . . .!!!!

You can do it, just a little more

You guys, the game is the other way

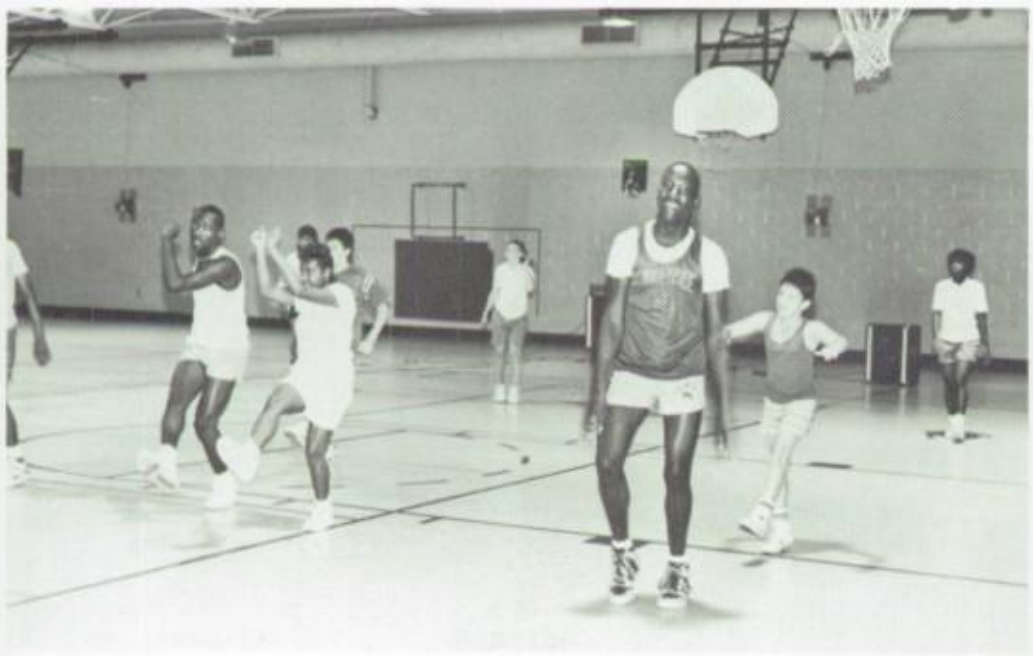
Look no hands!

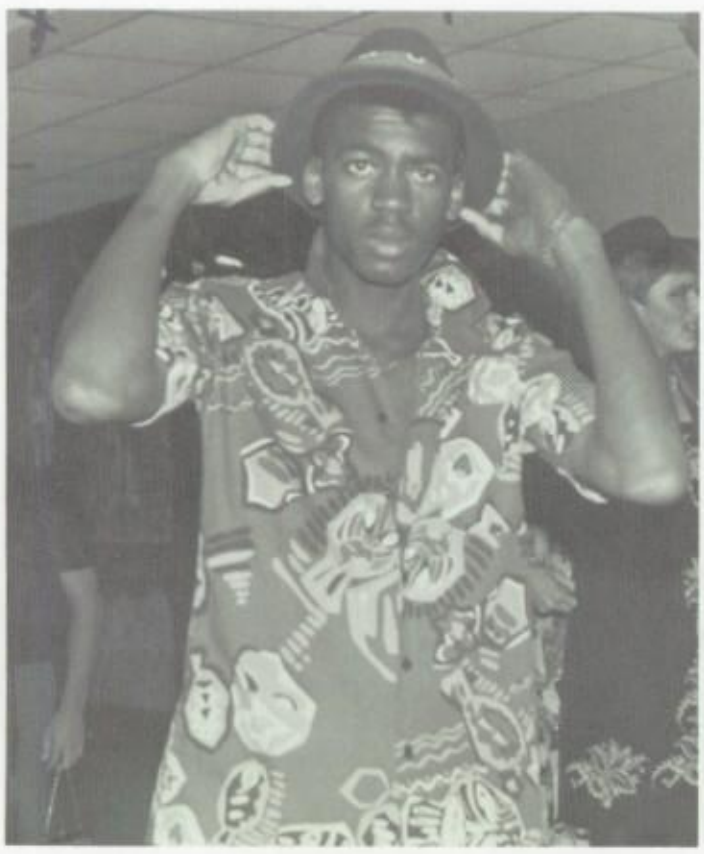
Cheese!

We got it made in the shade!

Just a little lighter and you got it

GHT





Step right up and get your seat.

Head 'em up and move 'em out.

Khris chows down in the cafeteria.

Julie makes sure she gets the job done.

Howdy Doody.

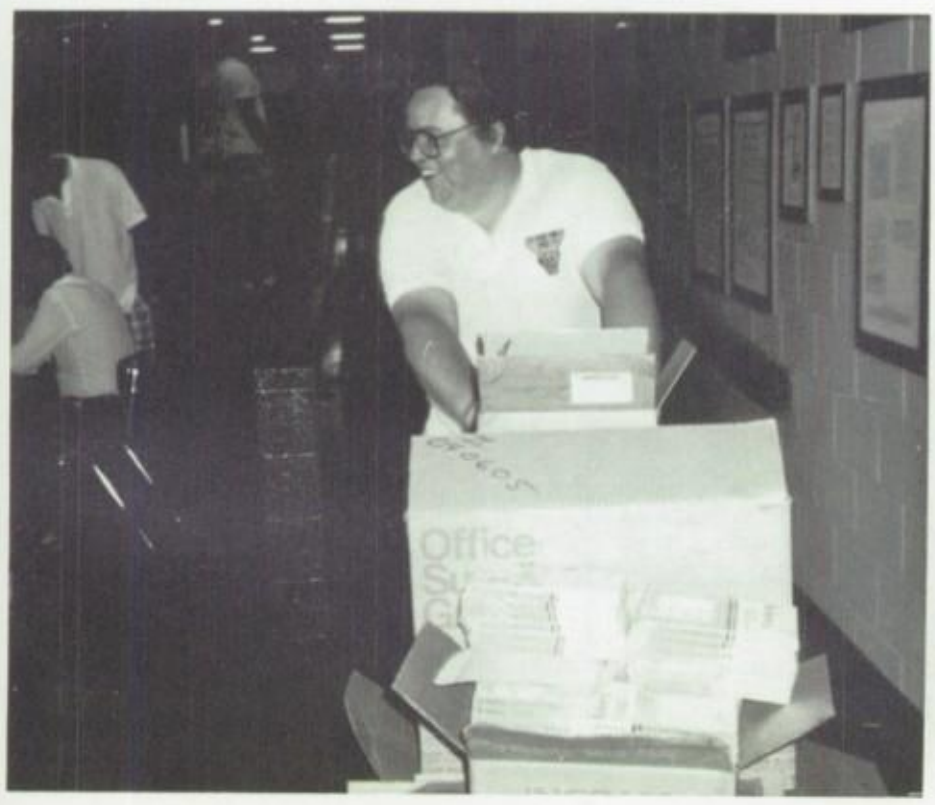
The things I have to go through to get on the bus.

Just enjoying the atmosphere.

How can I eat with this on my head?

Are we winner's or what?

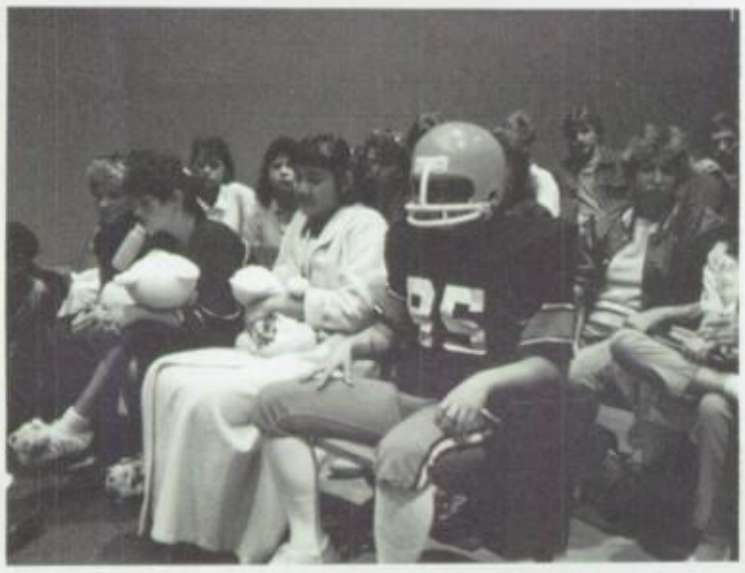
I won! i won!

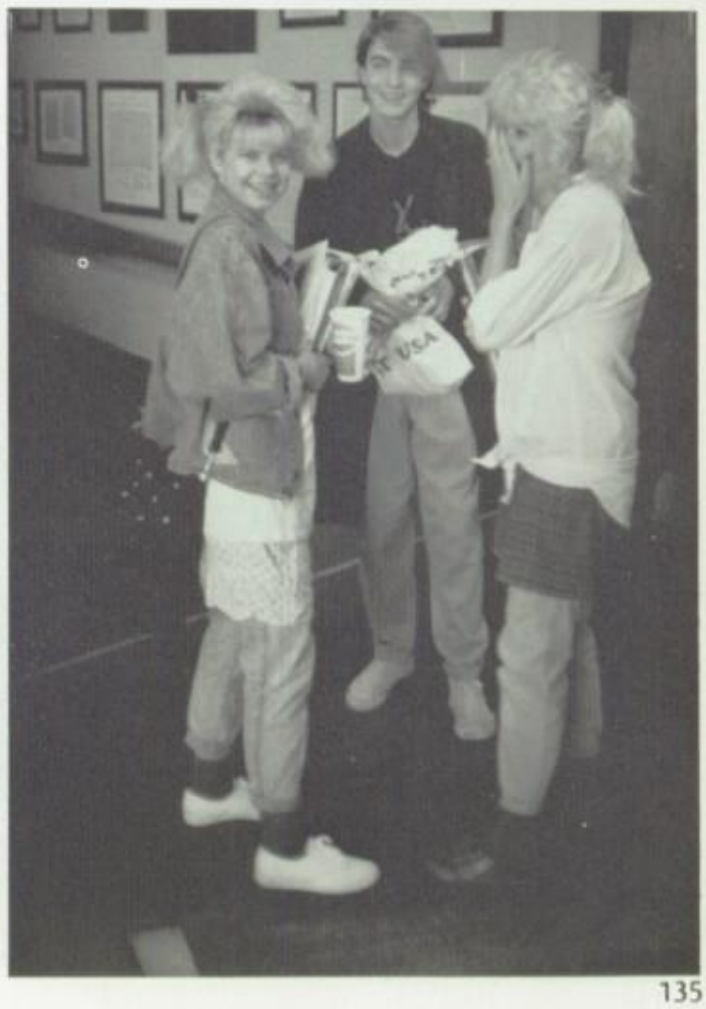


William carrying supplies.

I really didn't want to run anyway!

85





"Say Cheese, Fellows!"

"Where's the food, we're starved?"

"Look guys, STEAK!"

"We'll get you next time, Mrs. Schlafley!"

"I made it?"

"We are really nervous."

"Help I'm choked."

"Senior class to the office."

"Sexy legs, HUH?"

"Dora, what did they say?"

"Let's go home."

"My hair!"

All together one more time.

"Look at all the people!"

"Finally, FOOD!!!"

SENIOR COOKOUT

HALLOWEEN

CONTEST

Left, right, left, . . .

Dougher's runners.

Just a little more.

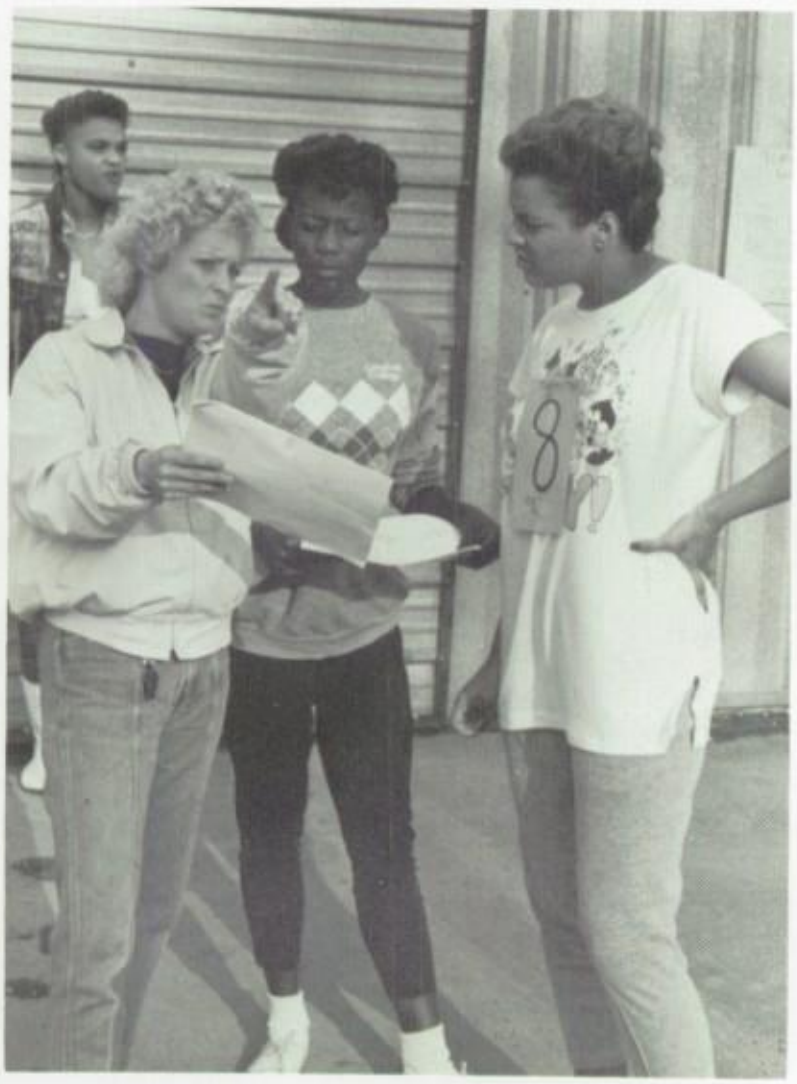
That doesn't look like a runner's pose.

Winner's line.

Boy I'm tired.

Ann Darty tips the scales.

Cookie is going to live after all.

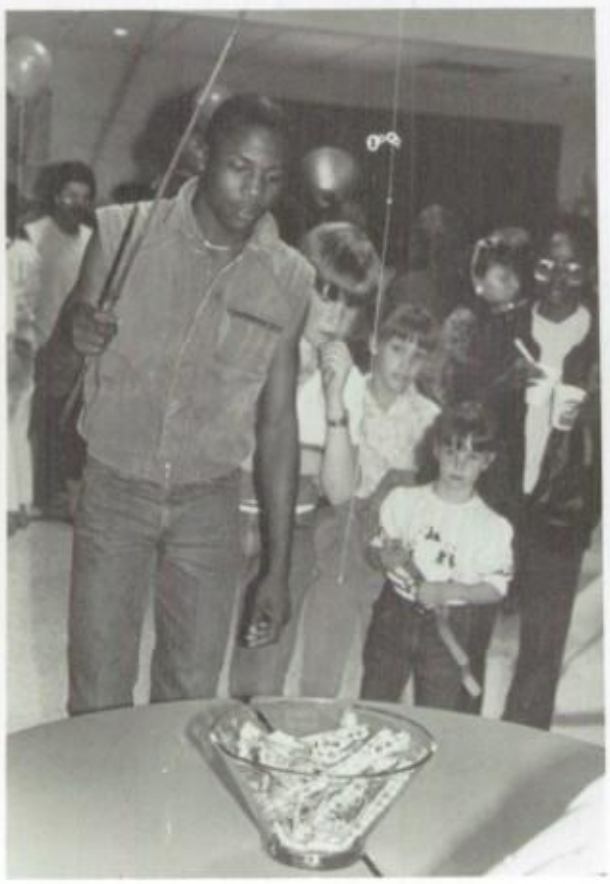


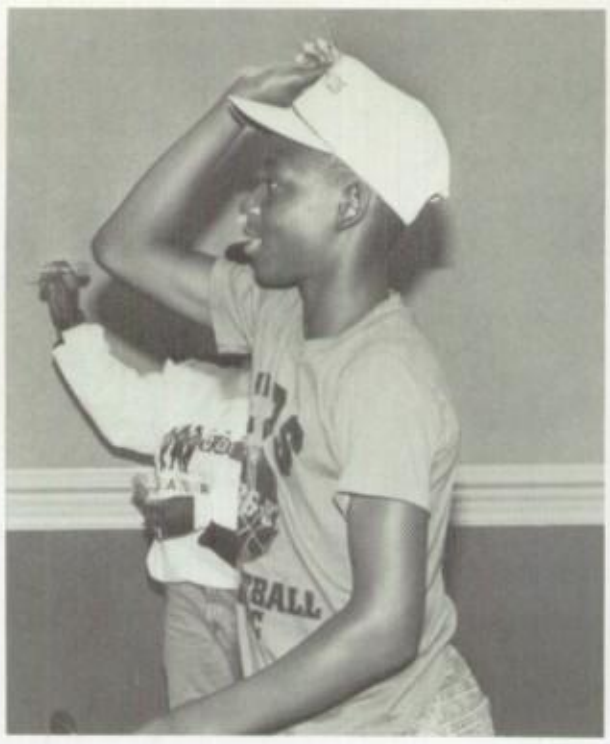
Which way do we go George?

Now that didn't hurt did it?

Aren't you just a little big for that?

Open wide!!





Enjoy

Final minutes of the last day of the '87-'88 school year brought memories of our year as BUSTERS flowing back through our minds. Over the past year Tennessee Preparatory School had become our second home and seen us grow as it had grown. With numerous changes in our lives and procedures, we learned how to deal with the system: We simply accept it.

We came from different parts of the state. Each of us had something to contribute, and each of us received something that was new.

Getting an education meant many things. We all chose different paths and different goals, but T.P.S. taught us all something special through the people that it brought together.

Through it all, what made campus life so special was the students themselves. Different forms of expression made the student body zesty! It's great. One thing for sure, we speak for ourselves.

I would like to thank everyone who contributed to this year's Beacon. Your help was deeply appreciated.
